Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 26 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Early cloud breaking to sunshine but also further heavy showers.

Today:
Starting cloudy in the east, with some residual showery rain. Becoming drier generally with some warm sunshine, sparking further heavy showers, although these should be fewer than on Sunday. Feeling very warm and humid, less so in breezier coastal districts. Maximum temperature 27 deg C (81 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers should fade during the evening to a warm night with clear spells. Becoming cloudier in the west later however, with areas of rain here and perhaps local thunderstorms. Minimum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tuesday:
Brightest early on in the north and east, with cloud and showery rain punctuated by heavier, perhaps thundery showers spreading eastwards later. Breezy near southern coastal districts, generally less hot. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Changeable and often breezy, with a mixture of sunshine and showers, some heavy and thundery. Perhaps more generally wet for a time later Thursday into Friday. Feeling less warm.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.